PRESIDENT-ELECT DISCUSSES PROGRAM WITH LEADERS

Roosevelt And Party Leaders In Conference

Consider Drive For National Economy To Balance Budget

WOULD CUT DOWN BY HUGE AMOUNTS

Necessity Of Additional Taxes Also Under Consideration Today

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A drive for unprecedented economy in the closing days of the present Congress is expected to be a direct result of the conference in New York today between President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt and congressional leaders. The President-Elect already has informed congressional visitors he places economy as the paramount method of balancing the federal budget.

Pledge Economy
While the Democratic leaders—Republican as well—have pledged themselves to slash expenditures wherever possible this session, the conference may emphasize his ideas and thus keep his own party members in line.

The President-Elect will be informed by Democratic leaders that they are striving to slash cost more than $600,000,000 in the present session.

A strong division of opinion exists among Democratic leaders as to whether a balancing of the budget can be brought about by economy, continuation of the federal gasoline tax and the beer bill.

Will Get Statement
The President-Elect will receive from Senator Harrison of Mississippi, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, and Speaker Garner of the House, a statement of the condition of the treasury and the outlook for the future.

On the basis of these figures, it is expected a definite decision will be reached as to whether additional taxes are needed at this time.

The President-Elect, while anxious to postpone a special session, will be urged to call one as soon as possible after March 4 if necessary. The almost unanimous opinion of Democratic leaders here is that an extra session may be called.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Residents were awakened at about four o'clock this morning by a prolonged whistle seeming to come from an engine on one of the railroad tracks nearby. The whistle was probably out of control for a few minutes.

Good progress is being made in the continuance of the work of paving the widened portion of East Washington street, and a continuance of the present brand of weather should see the bulk of the task completed by the end of this week.

Pa New yesterday saw a novel Christmas greeting card a friend received over the holidays—it was just a plain card bag bearing an elaborately printed Scotch inscription.

Young Pa New has observed in his various wanderings that quite a few of the safety zone lines in the downtown section of the city need a new coat of paint. Some of the lines are almost extinct.

Most anyone would be surprised how many New Castle people depend on that tower clock at the First Christian church for their time.

FIND NEWLYWEDS DEAD IN CANTON HOTEL ROOM

(International News Service)
CANTON, O., Jan. 5.—Motive for the tragic deaths of a young Cleveland and his bride of a day, whose bodies were found in the bridal suite of a Canton hotel, was sought in an investigation by Stark county authorities.

The victims of the strange death pact were Anthony Ricardo Niano, 22, a reputed bootlegger, and the former Beatrice Rita Masterson, 20, both of Cleveland. Each had been shot in the head.

Coroner T. C. McQuate of Stark county ruled that either the couple died in a double suicide arrangement or the husband had murdered his bride as she slept and then turned the gun on himself.

BELIEVE 18 LIVES LOST AS FRENCH LINER BURNS

(International News Service)
WEYMOUTH, Eng., Jan. 5.—The French liner L'Aquitaine was sighted eight miles off Portland Bill at 11 a. m. today.

The ship was drifting toward the Isle of Wight, blazing furiously and illuminating the sea for miles around.

Although reports varied, latest indications from Cherbourg placed lives lost in the fire at 18, despite the fact the commander of the vessel previously said he believed about 30 had been burned to death or drowned.

Slayer Dies In Electric Chair

Joe Hudock, Luzerne County's "Pyre Murderer" Dies At Rockview

SLAYER CALM AS EXECUTION COMES

(International News Service)
ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, Bellefonte, Pa., Jan. 5.—Joe Hudock, Luzerne county "pyre murderer," today was electrocuted in Rockview Penitentiary for the killing of Stanley E. Yurich last May 15.

Hudock was pronounced dead at 7:05 a. m. 4 minutes after the first charge was sent surging through his taut body strapped rigidly to the electric chair.

Only one charge was applied, at 7:01 a. m. The "death march" was a little slow getting underway but Hudock passed through the little grey door into the execution chamber at exactly 7 a. m.

Slayer Dies Calmly
He walked calmly with head bent very low and his eyes to the floor, flanked on either side by one prison guard.

Entering the chamber, he walked directly to the electric chair and sat down in a nonchalant manner. While guards strapped him up, he watched intently without a word.

As they stepped back, Hudock spit a huge wad of chewing gum out of his mouth at the feet of Warden.

Challenge Right Of Ellenbogen To Take House Seat

Rep. Harry Estep, Republican Of Pittsburgh, Files Challenge With Clerk

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The right of Representative-elect Henry Ellenbogen (D) of the 33rd Pennsylvania district, to take his seat in the House was under formal challenge today on the ground that he has not been a naturalized citizen for seven years.

Rep. Harry Estep, Republican, who was defeated in the Pittsburgh district by Ellenbogen, filed the challenge with the clerk of the House.

He said Ellenbogen was naturalized on June 17, 1926, and the seven-year time limit prescribed by the constitution does not expire until June 17, 1933.

Since Representatives-elect take office March 4, he is not entitled to his seat, Estep contended.

Rep. Turpin (R) of the twelfth Pennsylvania district, has filed a reply to the contest of John J. Casey, who alleged fraud. Turpin, in return, said Casey failed to show specific instances of fraud. He also asserted dead persons "voted" for Casey and policemen solicited votes for him.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A growing demand for retaliation against the nations, defaulting in war debt payments, swept Capitol Hill today in the wake of the war debt problem.

Among proposals made to punish the defaulting nations were:

1. Inflation of the American currency through remonetization of silver, which would relatively increase the tariff, and leave France the sole gold-standard first class power in the world.

2. A legislative ban on flotation of private or public loans for any defaulting nation.

3. Preferred treatment on debt (Continued On Page Two)

Pymatuning Water Storage Will Commence In Spring

Water seeping down from the hills surrounding the expansive Pymatuning dam basin has begun to flood narrow sections of the new lake region, but no concentrated attempt to back water to the next spring, it was learned today from Robert L. Meermans, in charge of Pymatuning job distribution at the Y. M. C. A. here.

Small Pools Forming
Meermans reports that when he visited the region only a few weeks ago the water pools were just beginning to rise. He described it as the ground overflow from recent rains.

Speaking of the effort which later will involve water storage, Meermans declared that considerable work must be accomplished before a large basin of water can be collected. As no steps have been taken to close the gigantic dam gates at Jamestown, he said.

At Espyville, at the lake tract's halfway mark, bridges will be constructed for traffic to cross from (Continued On Page Two)

PEIPING, Jan. 5.—Chinese forces were entrenched today along the west bank of the Shih-Ho river between Shanhaikwan and Chingwangtao, according to advices received here.

Both Shanhaikwan and Chingwangtao were reported quiet, although earlier in the day Japanese planes bombed the Chinese positions.

Japanese forces now controlling Shanhaikwan, which was taken from the Chinese in three terrific assaults, were estimated at 6,000.

Three Alarms Keep Firemen On Jump

Small Damage Results From Blazes; Two In Downtown Section This Morning

Firemen were kept extremely busy this morning, when they answered three alarms in 45 minutes. There was but a small loss sustained in any of the fires.

Around 10 o'clock they were called to the Colonial hotel, where grease had become ignited on the stove in the kitchen of the Colonial restaurant. By the time firemen arrived on the scene with four pieces of apparatus the blaze had been extinguished by the cook.

A few minutes later, second ward firemen were summoned to Highland avenue, where leaking gasoline in the car of Paul Fisher became ignited from a hot exhaust pipe. The damage was negligible.

At 10:40 firemen were summoned to the city building, where someone had thrown a cigar into a mattress in a bunk room over the patrol barn, occupied by Joe Meister. The damage was approximately $10.

This is the second fire of this nature which has occurred in the rooms over the old patrol barn during the past year, from the same cause.

BANDITS KILL BANK CASHIER SECURE $3,000

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MANISTEE, Mich., Jan. 5.—Four bandits today raided the bank of Kaleva, a nearby village shot and killed the cashier, and escaped with about $3,000.

Ellsworth Billman, the cashier, was shot down because he was slow in responding to the bandits' order to turn over all the bank's cash.

The killers were reported to have fled toward Cadillac, taking obscure roads through the heavily timbered countryside.

State police cruisers and a radio control car were dispatched to the scene.

Dry Law Repeal Measure Comes From Committee

Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee Frames Resolution For Senate

HEATED DEBATE NOW FORESEEN

Resolution Would Put Repeal Before State Legislatures For Action

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A resolution, proposing immediate repeal of the 18th Amendment, was favorably reported today by the Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee.

The resolution carried provisions, proposing federal protection of dry states and giving congress express power to outlaw the saloon.

Must Be Ratified
The resolution would be submitted to state legislatures for ratification.

The subcommittee of which Senator Blaine (R) of Wisconsin, is chairman, voted first to submit the repeal question to legislatures of the states for ratification. This was in direct conflict with the platforms of both parties.

Liberal leaders who first proposed ratification by specially elected conventions in the states, changed their stand when protests developed over the cost of this system.

Some Democratic senators may oppose the legislature provision because of their party declaration. Blaine announced the subcommittee's report would be laid before the full judiciary committee Monday.

"I hope to see it reported to the Senate Monday," said Blaine. "There is no reason for further delay. I hope we can get a prompt vote on it in the Senate."

The Resolution
Resolved by the Senate, and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled (two thirds of each house concurring therein), that the following amendment is hereby proposed to the constitution of the United States:

Doctor Is Held As Suspect In Counterfeiting

Prominent Heart Disease Specialist Arrested By Agents In New York City

GERMAN "COUNT" UNDER INDICTMENT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Working swiftly and silently under orders from secret service headquarters at Washington, federal agents today tightened their grip on members of an alleged international counterfeiting ring with the arrest of Dr. Valentine Gregory Burton, 34, heart disease specialist on the staff of the Polyclinic hospital.

Dr. Burton's arrest by secret service agents followed within 24 hours the seizure of "Count Enrique Dechow von Buelow, who was taken into custody at Newark airport Wednesday night as the Montreal plane landed.

Arrest of the doctor came after disclosure in Chicago that members of the counterfeit ring had passed some $25,000 in expertly-faked bills on a number of "big shot" bootleggers there.

Indictment Returned.
The "count" was indicted in Chicago yesterday and a warrant asking his extradition to the midwest city was issued.

Disclosure of the counterfeit ring's activities in Chicago came through federal agents who revealed the midwest bootleggers duped into receiving the fake currency had notified federal authorities and aided in bringing about von Buelow's arrest.

The fake notes, it was reported, were part of an issue of $500,000 engraved in Berlin in 1929 and representing some of the cleverest counterfeits encountered by the secret service in years. Part of the issue it was said was taken to Mexico and the rest to the United States where federal authorities said many of the bills were passed in New York and Chicago.

Man Suffocated In Hollywood In Apartment Blaze

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 5.—Bart Conners, 50, screen writer and author, was suffocated and several other occupants of an exclusive Hollywood apartment house were overcome by smoke in a spectacular fire early today.

Occupants of other nearby apartment houses fled to the street in night attire.

The fire originated on a davenport in Conners' apartment, according to firemen who said the author probably had fallen asleep while smoking.

Firemen battered down doors to awaken tenants, six of whom had been overcome by smoke and were revived by inhalator squads.

Several adjoining apartment houses were threatened but after an hour's battle firemen controlled the flames which had caused heavy damage.

Conners was a native of Oil City, Pa. After graduating from a college in Scranton, Pa., he went to New York state and was admitted to the practice of law. Later he was on the vaudeville stage, then turned to the writing of short stories.

QUESTION GIRL IN DEATH OF YOUTH

Strange Story At Clarksburg

Suicide Theory In Youth's Death Is Being Probed By Officers

GIRL SAYS DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

(International News Service)
CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 5.—Funeral service today for Joseph Floyd Hickman, 17, furnished a strange anti-climax to the sensational story of pretty Bessie West, 17, former high school student, that Hickman was the father of her unborn child.

Bessie told her story late yesterday to Sheriff Fitzhugh Reynolds and a newspaperman nearly 36 hours after Hickman died with a rifle bullet through his brain.

Sheriff Reynolds and Coroner Leroy Goff agreed the youth committed suicide although the girl stuck to her original version of his death—that he had shot himself accidentally while "fooling" with a rifle.

Bessie was not being held, Sheriff Reynolds said after the suicide verdict was returned. Questioning of the girl was decided upon, however, to clear up several details of the youth's death.

Hickman and the girl were engaged to be married, Bessie said. He had planned to enlist in the navy and then return home and "play square" with Bessie by marrying her to give the child a name. The baby is expected in two months.

After telling her story, Bessie went into seclusion at her father's home in West Milford. She was not to attend the last rites for Hickman, at the request of her father, although she admitted she wanted to go.

Hickman died Jan. 3, several hours after being brought to a hospital here. There were no powder burns on his face, although the rifle he was said to have used in killing himself was 18 inches long.

he believed this should be adhered to. "If the session will get to work immediately and carry out the legislative program with zeal, there is no reason why April 13 can not see the session adjourning," he said. "Adjournment on this date would mean a savings of state money for the cost per diem is high. Wages of appointive officers, printing, light, and other incidentals run the bill to a high figure and an early adjournment would be an economical move."

The naming of committees will take place this week, thus saving a week's time. Ordinarily the session adjourns for two weeks while the committees are named and the State committee makes its report. This year the extra week's delay is being avoided.

daily routine procedures. Even motor coach drivers, we've noticed, peer up at the timepiece before they commence their trips.

One of the silent forces that helps to keep New Castle's schools in operation is the night janitorial group that scours the buildings while students sleep. At the Senior high school, where over 2,000 students tramp in and out of rooms, the night workmen find plenty of jobs to do as the darkness brings a respite in the school's activity.

Even though the time is past for galley colored lights and holiday wreaths nevertheless Pa Newc observed that quite a few homes still maintain a holiday appearance.

Yes, it is almost time for St. Valentine's day to roll around again. The youngsters have not forgotten about it. Pa Newc passed two little girls yesterday who were talking about the valentines they were intending to give their friends. The one child had several in her hand and was showing them to her friend.

The fire departments must have set some kind of a record this morning for answering alarms in quick succession.

Pa Newc noticed that among the new volumes at the library is "The Fun of It," Amelia Earhart's latest book. This should be particularly interesting to women aviation enthusiasts of the city.

C. W. Marks of 1809 Highland avenue reported the latest about birds remaining in this vicinity this morning when he reported to Pa Newc that he had a beautiful Red Cardinal perched in a tree in his back yard.

Trail following is still a popular sport for youngsters in spite of the lack of forests and jungles. A little boy on North Mill street this morning was seen dropping a trail of rice on the sidewalk behind him. Asked what was the idea he replied "Making trail for my little brother to follow." He didn't explain where he got the bag of rice!

If you are one of the former students of Martin Gantz be sure to join in at the organization meeting to be held the evening of January 10 at North street school. A permanent organization will be formed at that time.

State police have received numerous calls since they reopened a sub-station in this city. Most of the calls have related to minor troubles and no arrests so far have been made. The police are on duty 24 hours daily. Patrols are made several times daily.

A local lady declares to Pa Newc that never again will she buy anything advertised as "imported." She says that only American-made things suit her taste now.

Stanley W. Ashe who superintended the execution.

Has Heavy Breakfast Just before the charge was applied, Hudock repeated the Lord's prayer in a loud intonation without any apparent emotion in his voice. Hudock talked briefly to several old friends during the night and appeared unaware of his impending execution.

He breakfasted this morning on grapefruit, ham and eggs, toast and coffee, all he wanted for his last meal.

Hudock pleaded guilty to the Yurich murder, with Stephen Barron, Hudock started out for Scranton from Hazelton in his auto last May 15. The machine stalled near Yurich's home. Yurich siphoned some gasoline from his own auto and as he was pouring it into the tank of Hudock's machine, seven shots rang out. Yurich died instantly.

Fiendish Crime Hudock and Barron fled in Yurich's auto, only to be halted again when the machine ran out of gas. The men returned to the scene of the crime, where Yurich's body was saturated with gasoline and set afire.

Both men were captured two miles away. Barron was tried and acquitted. The condemned man made a final effort to obtain clemency on the grounds that he was drunk and that he had been illadvised by his attorneys, court-appointed, to plead guilty.

Hudock was released from Rockview less than two years ago after serving five years for second degree murder. He had been a model prisoner during his stay and had acted as clerk for Dr. William S. Hyslop, resident penitentiary dentist.

Execution Postponed The execution was scheduled for last Monday but was postponed so as not to interfere with the holiday season. Hudock was brought here last Saturday and placed in one of the "death row" cells.

He had been carefully guarded both in Luzerne county jail and here to prevent any possible repetition of his suicide attempt of last December 1 when he cut his neck and wrist with a fragment of a razor.

Hudock was the sixth Luzerne county slayer to be electrocuted at Rockview. Last before him were John "Tex" Nafus and Sigismund "Big Joe" Sachewicz.

DEMAND GROWS FOR ACTION ON DEBT DEFAULTS

revision for the creditor nations which met their December 15 payments.

4. An expression of regret over the repudiation of December 15 payments by defaulting nations.

The inflation plan rose in conjunction with the war debt problem. Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, proposed inflation of the gold dollar, irrespective of the nation's attitude on the debts.

He also proposed a world wide economic conference for the reduction of armaments, lowering of tariff walls, stabilization of monetary systems, remonetization of silver, abandonment of reparations and revision of war debts.

Loaned After Armistice The debate brought out that $3,000,000,000 was loaned Europe after the armistice. Senator Johnson (R) of California, revealed the war debt settlements have cost the American people $2,000,000,000 with the prospect of greater losses.

He also revealed the United States had paid France $70,000,000 more than this nation received from France on war debt payments since the armistice.

The Hoover moratorium, which France cited as a reason for her repudiation of the war debts, was blamed on President Von Hindenburg of Germany and upon J. P. Morgan & Company.

Last month, said Johnson, France, after repudiating a $19,000,000 payment to the United States, anticipated a $4,000,000 bond payment to Morgan's firm.

The question of punishing the defaulting nations agitated leaders. A majority opposed any overt act, except to give preference in debt revision to the nations honoring their debts.

Senator Reed (R) of Pennsylvania, and Senator Robinson (D) of Arkansas, suggested meeting "England half way." Both declared against including France.

A resolution by Senator McKellar (R) of Tennessee, protesting against the defaults and pleading with the debtors to pay up, drew little support.

The drive for inflation seemed to have gained tremendous momentum, due to France's default. Borah said the United States would have to inflate its currency or go off the gold standard.

Johnson told how France repudiated the $19,000,000 payment last month and then ordered a $26,000,000 cruiser built while lending $14,000,000 to Austria.

Backs 'Buy American'

Lining up behind the new "Buy American" banner, Senator Kenneth McKellar, Democrat, of Tennessee, has announced his intention of adding an amendment to all appropriation bills forbidding the purchase of foreign materials for Federal use. He believes this to be one of the best means of defense against the dumping of cheap foreign merchandise produced by low-paid workers.

George Jones Hughes, aged 79 years, died suddenly, Tuesday, from a heart attack, at his home, 223 West Madison avenue, Youngstown, Ohio.

Born in Pontypool, Wales, Mr. Hughes came to the United States about 55 years ago. He resided in New Castle until moving 22 years ago to Youngstown, where, for nearly 20 years he was a machinist foreman at the Republic Hazelton furnace.

Mr. Hughes married Mary A. Hagan in New Castle 46 years ago. She preceded him in death 3 years ago. Surviving him are one daughter, Mrs. Adelaide McGrath and a grand-daughter, Dorothy McGrath.

Mr. Hughes was a member of the Welsh Congregational church and Odd Fellows. Funeral services will be conducted from the late home at 2 p. m. Friday. Interment will be made in Calvary cemetery, Youngstown.

BIRTHS

(Announcements to appear in this column must be signed with name and address of mother.)

David J. Jones III, was born at the Ellwood City hospital on New Year's Day. It is quite a coincidence that he was born on the birthday of the late D. J. Jones, former state legislator. The new arrival is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Jones, Jr., of Pittsburgh Circle, Ellwood City.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frenkel, 420 Ober street, announce the arrival of a daughter on January 2 in the New Castle hospital. The young lady weighs eight pounds and will be known as Elizabeth Jean.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cenderoski of Enon Valley announce the birth of a daughter on December 31 who weighs 6½ pounds. They have named her Anna Catherine.

LAZY MAN'S LOAD
A man with a load of wood used to drive up in front of our house and dump it on the sidewalk. Sometimes they were pine blocks. Sometimes they were 14-inch sticks of oak. We did not welcome that man. Because when he dumped the wood on our front sidewalk, it was our job to pack it around the house and stow it in the barn.

We earned a nickel doing that, but we felt abused. It was hard work carrying all that wood around the house, even in a wheelbarrow. We tried to delay it, to get out of it, and finally to do it as easily as possible.

Our way was to make each load a big one, to decrease the number of trips. So we piled the wood high, far above the side-pieces. When we ran over a rock, some of the wood fell off and we'd be forced to stop and pick it up.

Sometimes, too, it wasn't balanced properly and the entire load tipped over onto the ground. And we'd be so angry that we wanted to cry. We didn't get any sympathy, either. Our father would look at us and smile quietly and say something about "a lazy man's load". He reminded us how many times he'd told us that you never gain very much by packing a "lazy man's load". He'd wonder when we were going to learn the foolishness of that.

We didn't answer him. We sulked and piled the wood higher than ever. Kept on packing "lazy man's loads".

He died before we answered that question, and were he alive now, I'd tell him that we never did learn any better. We are still packing "lazy man's loads". Still carrying so much wood in our arms that a couple of sticks fall off before we get them into the house and we must bend over awkwardly to pick them up or must take a second trip to recover what we've lost.

Still carrying too much Pride, too much Vanity, too much Selfishness, too much Fear, as well.

Father, we never did grow up. We've always been overestimating our powers. Our eyes, as you observe, are still bigger than our stomachs. Our dreams are still greater than your dreams. We're still going back to pick up what we, in our foolishness, have dropped.

Experience hasn't taught us very much. We're still much as we were when you knew us so well.

And you didn't really expect us to change, did you?

A GRACIOUS GIFT

NO MORE gracious a gift has been tendered the City of New Castle in many years than that of Mrs. Caroline Wallace and Mrs. Lillian Westlake. Together these two women have given to their native city, 120 acres of land contiguous to Gaston Park, which can be used for an extension of this lovely spot.

In these days of economic strife and turmoil it is refreshing to find citizens who have not permitted the tenseness of the times to blind their civic sight. Here are two women, descendants of a pioneer family, who have said to their fellow townsmen, "take this tract of land and use it for the pleasure of all the people."

Quite naturally the city council has accepted this splendid gift. The coming years will demonstrate the worth whiteness of the gift. With a very small outlay the tract can be made into a breathing spot, a place where the boys and girls of the city can get out and enjoy the sunshine and fresh air, a spot where the people can find peace and rest.

No citizen of the city who is at all alive to the welfare of his city but appreciates the gift to the full. More and more the policy of far sighted cities is to set aside plots of ground for future use as parks. In the present instance the generosity of Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Westlake has obviated the expense necessary to acquire such a tract of land.

INEXPENSIVE JUSTICE

There is a "court" in Brooklyn, N. Y., that is probably without parallel anywhere in the world. Judge Nathan Sweedler conceived it and has fathered it until this day that it might fulfill its laudable purpose.

To this unofficial tribunal come those litigants who are without funds to engage legal aid or appeal to the regular courts and those who do not care to become entangled in the labyrinthine processes of formal justice. Its judges are recruited from the clergy, from business, from school faculties and newspaper staffs. They act not upon legal precepts but on social experience and common sense and sympathy, and yet fewer appeals are taken from their decisions than from the rulings of the real court.

The large place this unique court is finding in the life of its community points to a weakness in the constituted justice of the country. In theory, justice should cost nothing to one whose rights have been invaded. In reality, justice is financially beyond the reach of the masses. Next to war, litigation is the largest single item of preventable waste in modern civilization.

AID FOR THE LOCAL FARMER

Governor Pinchot's suggestion contained in his address to the General Assembly Tuesday, that the state take over all second class township roads, will probably meet with universal approval in Lawrence County. Every township of the seventeen in this county is a second class township which would mean that if the suggestion were enacted into law, it would make every foot of highway in the county, state maintained.

While the proposal would not mean any large savings to the city resident, it would mean the abolition of the road tax in the townships, and in some townships this means anywhere from 9 to 12 mills. It would mean better roads in the county, with a huge savings to the rural population.

There would be some savings to the city of New Castle in that the county would be relieved of the construction and maintenance of bridges. Inasmuch as sixty five per cent of the county taxes are paid by the city, there would be this saving to the city resident.

The proposal of Governor Pinchot that second class township roads be taken over seems to be but a forerunner of the day when the state will take over every highway inside its borders. This has been done in several states already and the 20,000 mile program taken over in 1931 in Pennsylvania was a step in this direction.

It seems logical to assume that a trained corps of engineers and road maintainers can build and maintain roads more efficiently than can individual groups of citizens in the various townships.

Whether the proposal can go through this session of the General Assembly is doubtful. It will meet with opposition of the high powered lobby of the road machinery men, it will meet the opposition of the big city politicians, but regardless of the opposition and regardless of whether or not the proposal can be put across this time, it seems certain that the day is coming when the state will have charge of all its highways.

THAT BLESSED WORD TECHNOCRACY

Democracy, aristocracy, theocracy—all these we know. But what is technocracy? Well, Mr. Howard Scott knows, or thinks he knows, and he has been giving himself a good deal of publicity of late. Many find difficulty in understanding it after all his explanations. Generally speaking, it appears to be efficiency carried to the nth degree, in accordance with the standards of a machine age. Everything is to be perfectly planned. More than industry or agriculture is included; all our social and political life is to come under the sway of the technocrat. And it is to be done simply for the benefit of mankind.

One may be permitted to hope that mankind will not be ungrateful. But the inclination to dislike philanthropists is very strong.

"It's human nature, praps; if so, Oh, isn't human nature low?"

Anyway, the technicians are to control everything under the inspiration of a master mind at Washington, a sort of scientific Mussolini. Mr. Scott is the obvious candidate for such an office. It is not clear whether or not he expects his position to be official. Perhaps he will be content to exercise only moral suasion. But how can there be a perfect technocracy if its decrees may not be enforced by authority?

If the future of society depends upon this rigid control, a dictatorship would be the natural outcome. We would need neither a President nor a Congress. The defect of the plan seems to be that it makes no allowance for individualism—man himself is to become a machine.

One little thing that saves lots of money is the word no.

It doesn't require a great deal of inventive genius for a man to make a fool of himself.

Another sould old word, which seems to have withdrawn more or less from general circulation, is "spry."

Of course red wall paper is pretty awful to live with, but helps where there are children who do their finger-printing with jam.

Most of the folks in this town seem to have Postponed Bedtime Indefinitely.

Department stores and specialty shops evidently have no monopoly of merchandise that attracts the shoppers, for there are other lines of business which carry brands that claim the attention of the shopping public, and so we read in the newspaper advertisement of a New Jersey undertaker, that "A lady from Jersey City, came to look at our Funeral Chapel and asked what kind of music we provide. We showed her our pipe organ and played it for her. She was delighted to find it a real pipe organ and not music played from phonograph records and gave us a funeral order."

Two or three repetitions of this, and then, weepy and tremulous: "Oh, mama, please come up and stay with God a little while. I'm still afraid."

And this seems to epitomize the situation for some of our patriotic figures, the good of the country tearing at their innards seen afraid to be alone with the Almighty.

Marines Leaving Nicaragua Stir Congratulations Here

Central American Treaty To Prevent Revolutions Is Under Fire, But Americans Hope That, After 20 Years, Fighting Men Of This Country Are Through.

Withdrawal of forces of marines from Nicaragua, after service under the police power of that country, is a subject for congratulation in the United States, where there has been criticism of the practice of sending these fighting men to the Central American republic to defend existing governments against the activities of rebels. While citizens here hope that the marines are out for good, there is some fear of trouble over the Central American treaty, which was adopted with the purpose of discrimination against governments created by revolution.

"The marines began preparations to depart as soon as the national election returns were in," says the PASADENA STAR-NEWS, explaining that "they had pledged a fair ballot, and even though the results may have disappointed some native politicians, to the United States the outcome should make no difference so long as the choice was made constitutionally, and if this country has no further responsibilities there under the Monroe Doctrine." The Star-News hopes that "there will be no future necessity for the presence of United States troops in any part of Latin America." That paper sees the possibility, however, that "delicate Latin-American issues may face the new administration at Washington."

And comments on the existing treaty: "It is significant that during a period when many South American countries have been in domestic turmoil, the Central American republics have been comparatively tranquil. One exception is El Salvador where General Maximiliano Martinez has been able to establish himself in power by revolution and he has successfully maintained himself, notwithstanding the refusal of neighboring powers to accept his regime as regular and therefore as official. More than that, the existing unrecognized Salvadoran government has launched a drive to abrogate the 1923 treaty. Costa Rica is taking leadership in the undertaking, and Salvador is importing Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua to join forces in which case the treaty is doomed. Naturally, Washington is watching the progress of this renunciation endeavor with much concern."

In explanation of Costa Rica's attack on the treaty, the LOUISVILLÉ COURIER-JOURNAL adds: "Where it runs counter to the treaty of 1923 lies in the fact that its president, General Martinez, was minister of war in the preceding government, and ministers of war, according to the terms of the pact are barred from the presidency, the idea being that in this way military dictatorships may be obstructed. The ostensible purpose of the treaty to prevent revolutions would be laudable if it were the voluntary and united wish of the Central American republics and if they alone were signatories to it. The United States, however, forced it upon the little countries. It carries out its provisions as a purely executive function, with the chief object in view of exerting pressure on those governments not to our liking. In the case of Salvador it has refused recognition to the Martinez regime though England, France, Germany, Mexico and South American countries generally have recognized it. Contrary to rule, however, the thumbs down attitude has not caused the collapse of the government, though the system of non-recognition has seriously harmed little Costa Rica.

"Some Latin-American countries," according to the TOLEDO BLADE, "looked askance upon the policy of intervention, but their fears that it forewarned of imperialism have proved groundless. Apparently our 'leathernecks' in Nicaragua have maintained their well earned reputation for fearlessness and efficiency. They have had not only to fight at times, and to suffer some losses, but to serve as schoolmasters for native military forces and as political mechanics to set up and operate election machinery. It is to be hoped, but not to be expected too confidently, that the results of the good work they have done will be permanent."

As to this permanence, the HOUSTON CHRONICLE holds that "we are well out of the mess at this time, but there is no way of knowing how stable Sacasa's government will prove to be." The Chronicle feels that "in case there is a formidable revolt against his regime, we probably will be forced to take action, even though the liberals of the country express angry protests."

Learning that Sandino, rebel chief, "is reported willing to surrender," the MIAMI DAILY NEWS sees the possibility that he may get a government position and amnesty for his followers, and offers the comment: "Dr. Sacasa, the man whom the marines originally were sent to Nicaragua to keep out of office, achieved the presidency in the recent election under their supervision. Sandino's desire for peace as the American troops evacuate shows that our armed intervention, far from putting down revolution, merely served to prolong it at tremendous cost in both lives and money. By such 'surrender' the rebel leader is in reach of a moral victory much greater than any he could possibly have achieved in the field of battle."

While recording rumors that "Sandino will not accept the new regime and is merely awaiting the chance to take the field again," the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS hopes that there is "a definite end to an unpopular military occupation." The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS finds it favorable to better conditions that "Dr. Sacasa is inclined to more conciliatory ways than his predecessor, Moncada."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AND THEN WHAT?

An anti-religious movement started in Russia at the time the czar was overthrown, is spreading all over the world.

According to Joseph Lewis, President of the Freeholders of America, the movement now embraces about 10,000,000 organized members.

Leaders of the movement have called a world congress in Washington, in 1933, in connection with the proposed unveiling of a huge monument of Robert Ingersoll.

The spread of education in Europe since the close of the World War has been followed by tremendous advance in free thought. Its workings have been most evident in Russia and Spain.

Germany has a stronger anti-religious following than any country aside from Russia. The leading free thought group there, Freidenker Verband, has about 600,000 members.

And what is proposed to take the place of Religion?

Attendance Last Evening Small Due To Illness Of Many Members

Last evening's meeting of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was brief, due to the fact that a number of the officers and members were unable to attend because of illness.

The report of the Toy Mission conducted by the post at Christmas time, was held over until the next meeting because of illness of the chairman, Charles Marshall. Quartermaster Clarence A. Leslie was also absent because of illness.

Gud J. Wadlinger stressed the importance of all veterans retaining their membership in their posts during the coming year because of the extreme need for cooperation at this time.

Invitation was extended to members of the post to attend the Tri-County Council meeting in Butler next Thursday evening, when the Joseph T. Black post and auxiliary will be hosts.

Word was received from Senior Vice Commander, James E. Van Zandt, that another radio broadcast, when new members will be initiated and obligated by radio, will be held in the near future.

Three Bills Are Introduced For Dry Law Repeal

Three Philadelphia Men Offer Bills To Repeal Snyder-Armstrong Dry Acts

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Three bills to repeal the Snyder-Armstrong dry enforcement act of 1923 were introduced in the house Wednesday. The sponsors were Representatives Sowers, Gartner and Witkin, all Philadelphia members.

The measures were filed with the chief clerk of the house and will be referred to the committee on law and order, which is expected to be named next week.

Certain house members expressed the opinion that beer, at least, will be returned soon and plans for wet-dry fights are already being made.

Today, Rep. Connor, Philadelphia, offered a bill which, in effect, repealed the old Brooks high license law, repealed when prohibition took effect. The Connor bill provides for the licensing of all places which engage in the selling of beer or other alcoholic beverages.

In Philadelphia and Pittsburgh the license fees would be $500. The fee would be a graduated one, the lowest being $40 in townships.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatic pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

Be beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called Ben-Gay in English). There are many analgesic Baumes, most of which are cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

May Use Plane If

State Police Not Averse To
"Going Into Air" After Bandits

State police on duty here are not averse to seeking criminals with an airplane.
What's more, if occasion arises it is likely that a plane may be used in keeping track of fleeing cars.
There are several airplanes at the local airport, and according to one owner, the state police are free to use it.
None of the state policemen is a pilot, but there are generally one or two pilots at the field.
When an act of banditry serious enough to warrant it would be possible for a plane pilot to "spot" a car providing the trail was discovered quickly enough.
Were the occupants of a machine to abandon it and attempt to hide in the woods it would not be such a difficult proposition to ferret them out from the air, as foliage is now stripped from trees.
In different sections of the country airplanes are used to comb territory in which criminals have sought to escape.
The airport along the New Castle-Youngstown highway is only a few minutes auto ride from the state police sub-station here.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Expect 5000 To Attend February Convention Of District Teachers

Some of the most outstanding figures in the educational field in America will be in New Castle when the Mid-Western section of the Pennsylvania State Education association holds its first convention here on February 17-18, according to a statement by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools. Dr. Green is also president of the Mid-Western section, being the first president elected by the newly formed body.

Dr. Joseph Rozier, president of the National Educational association has promised to be one of the speakers, as has also Dr. James N. Rule, state superintendent of Public Instruction for Pennsylvania. Dr. J. Herbert Kelley, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Educational association will also be present, and undoubtedly Dr. Ben

G. Graham, superintendent of the Pittsburgh schools, formerly superintendent of the New Castle schools will be here.

In actual size, the Mid-Western convention will be larger than the recent state convention of the P. S. E. A., according to Dr. Green. This will be because many of the schools in surrounding counties are using the convention as the Institute-substitute for this year and will require the attendance of the teachers of the various systems to be present.

It is anticipated that approximately 5000 guests will be in the city for the two days, which will make the convention about as large as the P. S. E. A. state convention held here in 1929. Committees are preparing the schedule of the convention sessions.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membrane. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

The little New Year must have felt greatly flattered when he reached Gardner and heard bells ringing and whistles blowing and realized that a merry group of young folks was welcoming him with glad acclaim. Dorothy Hay gave a watch night party to a few of her school-mates and every one entered into the various games with right good will and there was a jolly time for all. Virginia Hay and Mabel Walker served delicious goodies which were greatly appreciated. As the last notes of the whistles and bells died on the midnight air the gay guests departed in the first hours of Sunday with hearts full of high resolve to live lives of loveliness in 1933. Here are the names: Thais Brunton, Betty Davis, Elizabeth Koski, Francis Alexander, Charles Diller, Emery Myers, Charles Walker, Richard Stephanov and the peeping hostess Dorothy Hay.

Police Sergeants Now Rotate Each Eight Hour Turn

Innovation Is Started By Police
Chief John F. Haven,
This Year

An innovation inaugurated with the advent of the new year by Chief of Police John F. Haven is that of rotating all three desk sergeants on a different turn every two weeks. The same has been in progress of many years on the part of the afternoon and the early morning turns of patrolmen.

In the past, only two of the sergeants changed turns. These were the men on the afternoon and early morning turns respectively, covering the hours from 4 p. m. to 8 a. m. The desk sergeant on days in the past, as has been and still is in the case of the day turn men, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., not being required to change.

With the rotating of the three sergeants, each sergeant will every six week periods have served two weeks on each of the three turns.

All Christmas Seals Should Be Returned Now

Those Who Failed To Make A Return On Them Should Do So At Once

There are still many persons in the city and county, who have failed to return either the Christmas seals or the amount of money they represent to the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society, City Mission Building, South Mercer street. As is the case in all well regulated business matters, it is necessary for the society to check up completely on all seals distributed. There is no doubt, but that some have forgotten to send or mail in the money for the seals, which they used at Christmas time, promising themselves that they would mail in or deliver the money for the seals immediately after Christmas. Then there are those, who did not care to or could not afford to use and pay for the seals, but who have neglected to return them to the society. It is asked that all persons still having the unused seals in their possession or who used them intending to pay later, make a return without further delay to the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society at once. It is desired in each case that the seals or the money for the same be sent in without further delay, so that the sale of seals during the past Christmas season may be checked up at once. Another great lesson of this period is the discovery that a concern can get along with only one vice president.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT IS CENTER OF ATTENTION

Legislature To Discuss Plans

Governor Pinchot's Road Program Comes In For Much Criticism

ONE LEGISLATOR ASKS COMMISSION

Numerous Bills Before Session Dealing With Highway System

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Pennsylvania's highway department, pointed to with pride dozens of times by Gov. Gifford Pinchot and just as frequently the object of bitter attack by his critics, occupies a position today not far from the center of the legislative gridiron.

Several legislators in both branches are selected for it the warmest and most uncomfortable spot they can find, making it clear they intend to keep it there until accusations made are substantiated or proved false.

Although charges that the governor used highway work to enhance his own political interests have not yet been voiced in so many words in the current session, the investigation and supervision proposed have grown out of these oft-repeated allegations.

Would Supervise.
The investigation line of attack is led by Rep. Frederick Peters, Montgomery county, in the house. In the upper branch, Senator George L. Reed, Dauphin, will work on the supervision angle.

Reed has prepared a bill to create a highway commission of four to supervise the work of the department. Two members would be named by the senate and two by the house, none of them necessarily a legislator. They would receive no compensation but provision would be made for necessary expenses. The result would be a secretary of highways, now Samuel S. Lewis, subservient to the commission.

The Dauphin county senator's move, he explains, is based on his belief that a decentralization of authority is necessary. While it is "not a blow at either the present administration, or the secretary of highways, for whom I have the highest personal regard," Reed said, "I believe the expenditure of $75,000,000 a year should be neither solely in the control of one official nor subject to the dictation of any governor, no matter what his political affiliations may be."

WOMAN LOST 20 POUNDS IN 4 WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of four Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and further more I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Eckerd's Drug Store, New Castle Drug Co., or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

has been outspoken in criticism of highway department conduct. He urged in a recent attack that additional revenues would be necessary for the motor fund if the present rural road system is continued. The roads are thin and expensive to maintain and the expense will eventually bankrupt the funds of the department, he said.

The Montgomery legislator is one of many members of the legislature who question the wisdom of making the large majority of motorists pay for roads, the existence of which they are unaware. He is determined the Pinchot rural road program be curtailed and that instead of building roads which benefit only a few people, more of the highway funds shall be expended on the main routes in populous counties.

His views are directly in conflict with those of the governor, who recommended in his message that the state take over an additional 53,000 miles of rural roads for the purpose of saving "at least $18,000,000" in taxes to those "least able to pay."

While the Reed bill creating a highway commission would not remove Peters' objections, it would overcome the principal fault—centralization of government—found with Governor Pinchot's suggestions to take over more rural roads. Reed's project, however, is a large order because it would have to ride over the governor's veto to take effect.

Rep. Peters introduced his resolution of inquiry a few hours after the assembly convened Monday. The house picked it up with alacrity and passed it on to the senate. The upper branch, a little more deliberate during the first week, proceeded to table the measure, pro tempore.

The resolution provides for a legislative inquiry to determine the advisability of continuing the construction of "low cost" roads. Three members of each house would constitute the investigating committee.

Sensational Turn To Slaying Of Schoolman

By WEST PETERSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—"Your husband was killed because some other man was in love with you!"

This statement of Police Capt. John Stege to a pretty 24-year-old widow Wednesday gave a sensational turn to the probe of the execution of Edwin O. Schildhauer.

Search was pushed for Paul Walton, described as a "close friend of the family." Another "friend," Carl Bradberry, former deputy sheriff, was detained for further questioning.

The widow, Mrs. Frances Schildhauer, meanwhile aggravated detectives by what police termed evasions and contradictions, and by her fainting spells at critical stages in the inquiry.

In what was one of the most baffling mysteries of the tag end of the old year, Schildhauer, stalwart and handsome high school bandmaster, was slain in typical gangland style just 25 days ago. His bullet-riddled body was found in a desolate section of Cicero a short time after he was kidnaped from in front of his home.

Schildhauer was insured for $38,000, including sums payable under double indemnity clauses. The policies made Mrs. Schildhauer the beneficiary.

When Capt. Stege voiced his belief that it was a "love slaying," Mrs. Schildhauer tearfully denied there were any other men in her life. However, intimates declared that Walton, a former lawyer, paid marked attention to her. Questioned about this, the widow fainted.

From Cedar Rapids, Ia., today came a description of the asserted friendship between Mrs. Schildhauer and Walton.

Novice Hunters May Be Tested

Representative Hart Introduces Bill In House
Wednesday
COMES IN WAKE
OF 130 FATALITIES

Hunters who did not have licenses in 1930, 1931 and 1932 may have to prove their ability to handle firearms before going hunting if the bill of Representative Samuel Hart, Philadelphia, gains the favor of the general assembly.

Hart introduced yesterday in the house a bill to restrict issuance of licenses to new applicants only after they have passed examinations on the proper use of firearms. Hunters who held licenses in 1930, 1931 and 1932 would not be required to take the tests.

Regarded by legislators as a safety measure to keep inexperienced hunters from the woods and fields, the bill comes in the wake of the last two seasons which produced 130 fatalities. Forty-nine lost their lives this fall, while 71 were killed last season.

The bill provides that examinations shall be conducted before a game warden or other agent of the board of game commissioners.

An examination fee of 50 cents would be imposed in addition to the resident hunter's license charge if the applicant is successful in passing the test.

Those who possessed licenses during the last three years would so inform the issuing authority, while the new hunters must present certificates from the game commission or its agents.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Al Simmons is expected to do wonders for the Chicago White Sox this season and seniors profess to see the White Sox well up in front when the American league race is over next fall. Simmons, who with Jimmy Dykes and Mule Haas earned plenty of notoriety during last season is "one of the greatest natural batsmen of the decade" according to Walter Johnson, recently denoted as Senators manager. He believes the acquisition will go far toward putting an end to eastern clubs supremacy. "Dykes has the fight and hustle that should inspire more than one rally," Johnson said recently.

Jack Johnson, 54 year old colored ex-champion heavyweight of the world is in Berlin. He plans to open a boxing gym and make money in exhibition fights. "We of the old school have to work hard to make money. Nowadays, champions take a long rest after their fights."

Rogers Hornsby has the Babe Ruth and that is gymnast work during winter months to reach physical pink by the time the baseball whistle blows. Every day Hornsby is a visitor to the Y. M. C. A. in St. Louis. In former days the greatest right hand batter depended on an ordinary everyday life to keep in good physical condition. "I'm going to make a comeback next season right in my own backyard where I got my start in baseball. The Cardinals gave me the chance and I'm determined not to fail" he declared recently.

And now that basketball is in and track will succeed the sport of basketball it is interesting to note that Alfred Halliwell has rushed forward to uphold the family name in Harvard's long era of sport. A brother of the famous intercollegiate athlete a year ago, N. Penrose Halliwell, Jr., and a son of the distinguished father who was a track man at Harvard in 1897, the youngest of the Halliwell clan lays claim to fame in his own right for he won his numerals as a freshman, both in cross country and track.

"Babe" Didrikson Would Meet Ruth In Many Sports

Girl Athlete Would Challenge
George Herman "Babe" Ruth To Sport Round Robin

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Back from a shopping tour that included the purchase of her first evening gown, Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, world's champion girl athlete, today issued a challenge to meet Babe Ruth, preferably, or any other male athlete who thinks he's good, in a Round Robin of sport events. The stakes will be for fun or a side bet.

The feminine Babe suggests that the Round Robin include tennis, billiards, swimming, diving, golf, bowling, sprinting, jumping, handball, and "just to give that big fellow a chance, to win at least one event, I'll include throwing the baseball for distance."

This is no idle threat from the brown-haired, gray-eyed girl from the Texas ranges. She's a wonder at tennis and billiards. She has 272 for a bowling mark. She holds the world's record for girls in throwing a baseball and after only ten or twelve golf games, she had reduced her score to 82 over a stiff 18-hole course.

The young lady asks no handicap from Babe Ruth in any event.

New Castle Football Team Enjoys Annual Banquet Wednesday

Coach Howard Harpster Of Carnegie Tech Is Principal Speaker

Letters And Sweaters Given To 18 Men—Kominic Named Captain

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team passed into history last night at George Washington Junior High when about 225 persons gathered to do them honor for their fine success and to enjoy a fine banquet and dance. It was without a doubt one of the finest banquets of its kind ever held in this city. Coach Howard Harpster of Carnegie Tech was the principal speaker of the evening.

The dinner part of the affair was served in the cafeteria of the magnificent Junior High building, and was a tasty collation of meat, potatoes, and all the accessories, topped off by ice cream and cake.

Kominic Elected Captain
Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, was the toastmaster and after a brief introductory talk in which he praised the New Castle High football team, introduced Captain Mike DeCarbo as the first speaker, and the genial "Mike" responded with a fine talk.

Next Dr. Green had the pleasure of announcing the captain-elect for the 1933 team and he called upon Walter Kominic the old Power house fullback of the "Red Hurricane" who had been chosen by his mates prior to the banquet to lead the next year's team. Kominic thanked the team for their support and promised to do his best next season.

18 Get Sweaters
Principal Frank L. Orth of Senior High followed Kominic and after a short and interesting talk presented the following football men with letters and sweaters: Captain Mike DeCarbo, Captain-Elect Walter Kominic, Johnny Uram, Tommy Rambo, Bill Duff, Walter Raskowski, Fred Shelloff, Alex Shelloff, Freddy Lane, William Butz, Ron Thomas, Patsy James, Joe Howley, Frank Humphrey, Rocco Tomalio, Charles Nickum, John Pakovitch, Edward Pascarella, Managers Dave McBride and Don Anderson.

Then followed an introduction of the 1932 and 1933 football team assembled at the banquet. Harold Baer, acted as spokesman for the 1932 team and introduced the following men: Dan Fisher, Dr. Ray Lutz, Ted Marlin and Herbert "Mickie" Kirk. The 1932 team was introduced by Howard Kirk as follows: Ralph Day, Dr. Ted Hess, Dr. Phil Sargent, Bob Preston, Joe Smith, "Dutch" Haug, John Offutt, Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh was the next speaker and gave his customary fine talk, briefly outlining the season just passed and telling some of the young gridders just how good they were. He also paid a glowing tribute to Coach Howard Harpster. Bridenbaugh called the "Red Hurricane" one of the best that he has ever coached.

Harpster Speaks
Howard Harpster, Head Coach at Carnegie Tech was introduced and responded with the principal talk of the evening and of course his subject was "Football", and being an All-American at one time this was not difficult for the likeable young Tech coach.

He recalled many instances of his football experiences while playing at Carnegie Tech and directing the team at quarterback, and spoke very highly of Notre Dame, and the many times that he faced the Irish. In regard to football Harpster said that blocking was one of the most important fundamentals of the game. He also said that the "unexpected" play is always effective in a big game. He interspersed his talk with a bit of humor in the way of stories and in general drew commendation for his fine talk.

Several of the old timers present who played football at New Castle High in other years were introduced among them being George Muse, Ed Logan, Walter Duff, and Norman "Scoots" Nelson, and Dr. William Horner.

The evening hours were spent in dancing in the gym.

Thornhill Will Be Named Coach Of Stanford Team

Ernie Nevers, Former All-American Fullback Will Direct Backfield Men

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—C. E. Thornhill, head coach, Ernie Nevers, backfield coach.

That was the lineup today for Stanford's 1933 gridiron coaching staff.

The Stanford board of athletic control meets on the campus tonight to make the recommendations, but from all sources of information there comes but the one answer: Thornhill for head coach; Nevers for the backfield.

And, most significant of all, Nevers and Thornhill are in agreement on this arrangement, with the all-time All-American Stanford fullback pulling for Thornhill to get the top spot and in hope that he will be able to train the Indian backs.

Dukes-Grovers To Play Friday

Fegley Will Not Be Able To Start For Grove City Team At Pittsburgh

GROVE CITY, Jan. 4.—Venard Fegley, Hazleton lad who has been a regular forward for Grove City since 1929, will not be able to start against Duquesne Friday evening, it was learned today when he reported to Coach Bob Thorn. Fegley sprained an ankle in the first game with Slippery Rock, and although the ankle is nearly as good as ever, it is still too weak to allow him to play against the Dukes.

As Ruckie and Mike Koma both suffered illnesses during the holidays, and Dick Trembath was kept at home by the death of his mother, Thorn's Crimson squad will be seriously handicapped in the first important game of the campaign. The squad came back early, and has been holding drills daily as the Crimson mentor pushes his charges to the limit.

Carl Deems, member of the state championship Sharon high team of 1929, will likely get the call to fill Fegley's position Friday evening. The Sharon boy has been a utility forward for two years, and is improving rapidly this year. He will be paired with Joe Minnick, veteran Crimson forward, while Johnny Tomko may see action against the Dukes.

Soich and Patterson are expected to draw the center assignment, with the former having the inside truck. Both are inexperienced, but showed promise in the early games. This leaves Bud Laycock and George Stavinsky available for the guard positions.

Market Opens
Quite Strong

Considerable Overnight
Buying Accumulates—
Profit-Taking Develops

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Profit-taking today halted the rise in the stock market after yesterday's sweeping rise.

Enthusiasm engendered by the extent of the rebound brought considerable overnight buying, which was reflected in a strong and active opening. Gains were small, however, and the advance failed to carry through as traders rushed in to take profits.

American Can spurred more than a point to the highest price in several months and Continental Can was not far behind. Short covering helped the rise in these stocks.

U. S. Steel common and preferred were firm, absorbing profit-taking in good style. Other leaders like American Telephone, Allied Chemical and Consolidated Gas acted as well.

Auburn enjoyed an early run-up but slipped back later. The motors as a group were firm. Oils and copers did little.

Rails were supported by reports that legislation against competitors would be discussed at the meeting between President-Elect Roosevelt and congressional leaders here tonight.

Outside markets gave a good performance. Bonds continued higher. Cotton lost some of yesterday's gain but wheat worked higher. The dollar rallied against European currencies after yesterday's decline.

Merchants Lose
Fast Game Last Night At School

Uncanny Shooting Gives Farrell Quint 37-34 Victory In League Game

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 5.—Ellwood City Merchants lost one of the most thrilling games of the season last night when they were nosed out 37-34 by a fast quintet representing St. Michaels of Farrell of the Penn-Ohio league at the Lincoln high gym.

The game was close practically throughout. The last stanza had the crowd on edge until the final whistle as both teams fought desperately for the lead.

The visitors were unable to cope with the locals' offense until the second quarter when they forged to the front. The Merchants led 10-8 in the initial period. Due to some uncanny shooting by Seaman Simko, Worthington Pump, 14%, Westinghouse Elec, 29%, Warner Bros, 24%, Woolworth Co., 36%, Yellow T. & Cab, 3%

At the resumption of rivalries in the ensuing stanza, it was evident that matters were going to be interesting for the remainder of the game. The locals hit their stride again and with some fine passing work were on the short end of a 24-21 count at the end of the period.

The closing stanza was a memorable one. On three occasions the locals came within one point of the visitors' lead, but each time either Seaman or Simko would widen this with a fancy field goal. The locals missed several easy shots under the basket in the last two minutes which would have won the game. But as it was they were on the short end of a final 37-34 count.

Sky Birds in the South

Although they are much more at home in the air, Captain Jimmy Haizlip, of St. Louis, holder of the transcontinental flying record, and his wife, who holds the women's speed record of 255 miles an hour, seem perfectly happy as they enjoy the sun at Miami Beach, Fla. Mrs. Haizlip was the sensation of the Cleveland air meet last summer at the same time that her husband shattered the cross-country mark.

Clyde Mayne and Ferucci led the attack for the locals. Kulich and Parker were the best bets for the visitors.

GOLDEN WEDDING

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 5.—An interesting social event of the season took place at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Plugh of near Fombell in Marion township, when they celebrated at an afternoon and evening reception the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Plugh, one of Marion township's best known and highly respected couples, are enjoying fairly good health and are most active about their home and regularly attend the services of the Burroughs Lutheran church.

The wedding, 50 years ago, took place at the parsonage of the St. Peter's Reformed church, or what is now known as Burry's church, when Miss Elizabeth Gettman became the bride of Daniel Plugh with the Rev. E. F. Winter performing the rites. A feature of the celebration was that Miss Nettie Winters and Edward Winters, who attended the couple at their wedding, were able to be present.

Throughout the afternoon and evening approximately 100 relatives and friends called and congratulated the honored ones on this happy event. A collection of gifts from the family and other associates and a beautiful basket of flowers from the Women's Missionary Society of Burry's church, were presented by Rev. C. L. Doerns, testifying to the esteem and affection in which they are held.

As the guests came and went a delicious collation was served by members of the family.

Where Japs Crossed China's Great Wall

Made on a previous occasion when Japanese troops demonstrated on the eastern terminus of China's Great Wall at Shanhaiwan, this scene is duplicated again at the city that is regarded as the gateway to Jehol Province as the banner of the Rising Sun once more moves against China. Conflicting information from Jap and Chinese sources claim that the city is in Japanese hands, according to one version, while it is still holding out according to the other. Jap bombing planes participated in the latest attack, which resulted in heavy casualties among the Chinese military garrison and civilian population.

Troop Drills Twice Weekly

Extensive Preparations Are Being Made For Coming
Federal Inspection

Drills are being held twice a week by Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, N. G. P., in preparation for the coming Federal inspection, which will be held Monday, January 16, with Capt. James Shelton as inspecting officer. In addition to the regular drill which will be held Friday evening in the armory, the boys were put through their paces at an extra session last evening. Next week, there will also be two drill sessions on Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Col. H. B. Newman, Senior Inspector of Cavalry was here during the past week, going over the troop condition and inquiring into their standard of efficiency.

In connection with the Federal inspection on January 16, four mounts of the troop, which have outlived their usefulness, will be killed. Several new mounts have already been purchased through the Civilian Sponsoring Committee to take the places of the horses which are to be destroyed.

ROAMING

With Richards
Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things
Around New Castle.

After watching automobile tags for the past three days, we're forced to the conclusion that the average person is honest, at least insofar as the use of proper tags is concerned. Haven't been able to spot a 1932 Pennsylvania tag on a car, which is rather unusual.

Out of the thousands of cars seen around the county it would not be unusual if a few drivers attempted to operate for a day or so on old plates. Not even the motor patrol can check every car you know and it would seem that somebody would endeavor to get away with it.

Just now you can begin thinking of the inspection of your car before the last of March. The first half inspection period is on which means that before March goes out you must have a mechanic look over the family creak, check it for deficiencies and then give you a certificate to paste in the right hand corner of the windshield.

Those pile driving plunges of Walter Kominko have been rewarded in part it seems. It is now Captain Kominko to you, and when the 1933 model of the New Castle High football team takes the field this fall, the power house fullback will be at the helm.

We have enough calendars thank you. The latest one came in the mail, a rather doggy Indian picture showing a couple of braves or chiefs giving a tom tom a going over.

The craze just now among the literati seems to be to find the most beautiful and the most ugly words in the English language. George Muse gets the credit for the most beautiful sentence. He believes the most beautiful sentence in the language is this one, "Let me pay the check."

And Maurice Markley on the South Side is the authority for the ugliest in the language, "please remit."

According to one of the scientists in Harrisburg, a giant race of aborigines inhabited the western end of this state about 10,000 years ago, and built mounds. Here in Lawrence County there may be some proof of this. Along the Big Run in Shenango Township is a huge mound which does not fit in with the rest of the terrain out there. It is located in a level spot along the creek and no ways near the mound is there any hill or valley. It has all the appearance of an Indian mound, and Frederick A. Godcharles who was state historian under Governor Fisher had planned to send diggers out to get at the origin of the mound.

The mound must be thirty feet high and fifty or sixty feet in diameter at its base. Only a freak of nature could have put such a mound where it is. There are no old excavations near at hand to account for the pile, and it has the appearance of being a funeral mound of the early inhabitants.

Some relics of such a civilization have been unearthed at Safe Harbor, near Lancaster, Pa., which indicates that there was a tribe of Indians here centuries before the American Indian we are acquainted with.

If enough amateur geologists could be secured who have a will to work with a pick and shovel, the mound in the Big Run might be explored, and might perhaps unearth some interesting relics of another age.

Economy Results Are Being Shown

Treasury Discloses Figures For First Six Months Of Fiscal Year

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Results of government economy were disclosed at the treasury today by figures for the first six months of the fiscal year showing expenditures of $2,182,172,000 were $352,000,000 under those for the same period last year.

Receipts of $1,022,885,000 were $126,000,000 lower and the deficit December 30, was $1,159,286,000 as compared with $1,385,440,000 from the same date a year ago.

If nobody is ahead of us, we'd like to share-crop Farmer Roosevelt's place on the Hudson next year.

Find Difference In License Plates

Word On New 1933 Pennsylvania Auto License Plates
Is Different

Although few people have noticed the fact as yet, there is a difference in the wording on the new 1933 Pennsylvania automobile license plates.

Some of the plates bear the inscription, "Penna 1933" above the numerals, while others have the wording reversed, "1933 Penna." It is probable that part of the plates were made in the Eastern penitentiary, while the rest were made in the Western Penitentiary, accounting for the difference in the wording.

Correct this sentence: "You were falsely accused," said the judge, "so the state will give you just compensation for the time and money lost."
